

Secure and Nurturing Families

Community Empowerment strives to help families effectively fulfill their roles as primary providers, nurturers and teachers of their children. Community Empowerment provides families with advocacy, information, education, and support. Examples of services include family resource centers, training in parenting skills, parent education opportunities, family literacy and home visiting programs.

Families in Iowa have a great need for support:

- Iowa ranks 2nd in the nation in the percentage of families with preschool children in which all parents in the household are employed.
- The majority of mothers with children under the age of five are in the workforce.

Communities are encouraged to commit 60% of school-ready funds to provide parent support and education programs and services. Family/parent support and education programs and services are delivered in a variety of locations and formats. These programs and services typically provide families with information, materials such as toys and games, and emotional support in order to enhance the family's well-being, support family stability and promote parent-child interactions. Communities have utilized home visits with individual families, parent/family education classes in group settings or a combination of home visits and group activities to support families in their role as the children's first and most important teacher.
